Suncor Energy releases annual sustainability and climate reports

Calgary, Alberta (July 18, 2023) – Suncor released its 2023 Report on Sustainability and its 2023 Climate Report today. The reports highlight how the company is working to achieve strong environmental, social and governance (ESG) performance and the company's actions on sustainable energy development. This year's Report on Sustainability marks the company's 28th year of sustainability reporting, a testament to Suncor's commitment to sustainability and transparent reporting.

"There is an increasing focus on these reports, particularly from our financial partners. They want to know about our performance, our ambition and our plans for a low-carbon future," said Rich Kruger, President and Chief Executive Officer. "Since joining Suncor, my focus has been to drive performance improvement across all aspects of our business. A strong, high performing base business enables superior returns to shareholders and ensures a strong balance sheet to fund continued investments in decarbonization, reclamation, biodiversity, people and communities."

The Report on Sustainability and the Climate Report are both available as downloadable PDFs:
